ACCESSIBLE HOLIDAY COTTAGES IN CORNWALL

Firstly, we must begin our latest newsletter by sending you all good wishes for 2020 and hope that you all had a very Merry Christmas.

If you are looking for holiday accommodation in Mid Cornwall remember that we offer fully accessible self catering accommodation and are now taking bookings for 2020.

With the unseasonably mild weather over the recent weeks we have made several trips to the coast for dog walking and hot chocolates. A delicious meal was enjoyed at The Gylly Beach Café overlooking Gyllyngvase beach near Falmouth. This is an accessible eatery-one of many local to us-and they also have a sand chair to use on the beach.

Newquay Zoo has become another of the major tourist attractions that can now offer the Changing Places facility (also available at The Eden Project and The Lost Gardens of Heligan). The zoo is set in picturesque sub-tropical gardens and offers a fun day out for all those interested in visiting to learn about all the conservation work they do. For details about the accessibility please click here.

For those avid Poldark fans a trip to one of the main filming locations at Charlestown is a must. The historic port is just a short drive away. The Shipwreck Museum is now under the ownership of Tim Smit - the pioneer of The Eden Project and The Lost Gardens of Heligan. Most of the museum is all on one level and there is plenty to see.

We do hope our hints and tips are useful to you and your families. Don't forget that you can like us on Facebook where we regularly post photos, places to visit, upcoming events, and special offers.

Looking forward to welcoming both old and new guests over the coming months and please do get in touch if we can be of any help if planning a trip to beautiful Cornwall.

Best wishes

David & Esme
